

NOTICE TO STAKEHOLDERS

REVIEW OF THE INTERGOVERNMENTAL AGREEMENT FOR AN ELECTRONIC CONVEYANCING NATIONAL LAW

In accordance with the Intergovernmental Agreement for an Electronic Conveyancing National Law (IGA) signed in 2011, the parties to the agreement are required to review the operation and terms of the IGA after seven years. This independent review will also consider the operation and terms of the Electronic Conveyancing National Law (ECNL).

Following a procurement process, ARNECC has selected and engaged the consulting firm Dench McClean Carlson (DMC) to undertake this independent review.

DMC will consult widely with the legal sector, conveyancing sector, financial institutions and mortgage processors; each state and territory Government, operating and potential ELNO's and other key stakeholders as necessary.

The Review Scope and the Governance Arrangements for the review of the operation and terms of the IGA have been published on the ARNECC website.

For further information regarding the IGA Review, and to make a submission, please contact:

Anne Larkins
Dench McClean Carlson
03 8617 8160 or 0419 373 096

Cameron Geddes
Dench McClean Carlson
0417 653 118

Yours faithfully

Jean Villani
Chair
Australian Registrars National Electronic Conveyancing Council

11 October 2018